Upon

Upon Midsummer-day, for the Election of the Sherriffs of L O N D O N, &c.

My Lord Mayor and the Aldermen, with the Sheriffs, meet at the Guildhall at eight of the clock in the morning, apparelled in their Violet Gowns lined, and their Cloaks of Scarlet lined, without their Horses.

And when they have been together in the Council-Chamber a certain time, concerning the Nomination of certain persons to be Elected, my Lord and the Aldermen come out, and put on their Cloaks in the Dyphans Court, and then go down in order to the Hustings Court, and there being set, master Recorder standeth up, and maketh his obeysance, first to my Lord, and then unto the Commons, and declareth unto them wherefore they are assembled together, shewing unto them that it is for the election of one of the Sheriffs of London, and the Sheriff of Middlesex, for the year next ensuing, and the confirmation of the other Sheriff nominated by my Lord Mayor, according to his Prerogative; and also for master Chamberlein, and other Officers.

But my Lord and the Aldermen go up to my Lords Court, and there remain untill the Sheriff be named and chosen, the doore shut to them.

Then M. Sheriffs, M. Chamberlein, master common Ser-jeant, jeant, master Town-Clerk, and the Counsellors of the City, and other Officers, remain still in the Hustings Court, to take and receive the Name of him that shall seem by their judgments, freely and with one consent, to be nominated and elected, and justly tried out, not onely by voice, but also by hands, to be Sheriff for the year following.

Then the Commons go to the Election of master Chamberlein, the two Bridge-masters, the Auditors of the City and Bridge-house accounts, and the Surveyors of Beer and Ale, according to the accustomed manner.

That done, the Sheriffs, master Chamberlein, M. common Serjeant, M. Town-Clerk, the Counsellors of the City, the two Secordaries, & the Wardens of the bead Companies, master Common Crier

Crier going befoze them with his Pace, carry up the Report to my Lord and the Aldermen of their said Election.

Which Report receiued, my Lord and the Aldermen come down again to the Hustings Court, and there being set in order and placed, master Recorder standeth up as he did befoze, and maketh re-hearfal of the names of those whom they haue nominated and chosen, asking them whether it be their free Election, yea or no. And they grant, Yea, yea. Then master Recorder giveth them thanks, and so they arise and depart home.

On Bartholomew Even for the Fair in Smithfield.

The Aldermen met my Lord & the Sheriffs at the Guildhall Chappel, at two of the clock after after Dinner, in their Violet Gowns lined, and their Horses, without Cloaks, and there hear Evening Prayer: which being done, they take their Horses and ride to Newgate, and so forth of the Gate, entring into the Cloth-Fair, and there make a Proclamation: the Proclamation being made, they ride thzough the Cloth-Fair, and so return back again thzough the Church-yard of great S. Bartholomews to Aldersgate, and so ride home again to the Lord Mayors house.

On S. Bartholomew-day, for Wrestling.

So many Aldermen as do dine with my L. Mayor and the Sheriffs be apparelled in their Scarlet Gowns lined, and after Dinner their Horses be brought to them where they dine: & those Aldermen which dine with the Sheriffs riffs ride with them to my Lords house to accompany him to the Wrestling. Then when the Wrestling is done, they take their horses and ride back again through the Fair, and so in at Aldersgate and so home again to the said Lord Mayors house.

How omit The next day, if it be not Sunday, for the Shooting, as upon Wed. + Bartholomew-Day: but if it be Sunday, the Monday following.

For our Lady-day in Southwark.

Embroydered without Hood.

MY L. Mayor and the Sheriffs ride to S. Magnus Church in their Scarlet Gowns lined, without their Cloaks, after Dinner, at two of the clock, & there the Aldermen meet my Lord, and after the Evening Prayer they ride through the Fair, till they come unto S. Georges Church, and farther ther to Newington Bridge, or to S. Thomas of Waterings, to the stones that point out the liberties of the City, (if it be so their pleasures) and they return back again unto the Bridge-house, and have a Banquet there, and then over the Bridge, and there the Aldermen take their leave of my Lord, and depart the next way, every one to his house. And after all is done, and my Lord brought home, my Lord Mayors Officers have a Supper made them by the Bridg-masters.

For the Swearing of the Sheriffs upon Michaelmas Even.

What day soever it falleth, so many of the Aldemen as be bidden to Dinner to either of the Sheriffs come thither to breakfast. or else to drink, at 8 of the clock in the morning, in their Violet Gowns Gowns furred, with their Violet-Cloaks furred, brought with them, without Horses. And if the Sheriff be an Alderman, then they must put on their Cloaks, and the Sheriff likewise his Cloak, and so go to the Guild-hall between two of the gray Cloaks: And if the Sheriff be no alderman, then to come between two of the Aldermen without Cloaks, and the Sheriff in his Libery-gown and his Hood. And after when he is sworn, then to put on his Violet Gown and Cloak, and his chain thereon. And the Aldermen must bring him home to his place, with their Cloaks, to Dinner, and so after Dinner take their pleasure.

Upon Michaelmas-day, for the Election of my Lord Mayor.

ALL the Aldermen meet my Lord and the Sheriffs at eight Eight of the clock in the Morning at Guildhall, in their Scarlet Gowns and their Cloaks furred, and their Horses: and after they have been a certain time together in the Council-Chamber, they come forth into the Orphans Court, and put on their Cloaks, and so go in order to the Chappel, there hearing Service and Sermon, and my Lord with certain Aldermen receive the Communion.

And then after the Communion ended, and they have offered, return again into the Council-Chamber, and, pausing a while, return to the place where the Hustings is kept: and being set in order, Master Recorder ariseth up, and maketh his obeysance first to my Lord, and after to the Commons, & declareth unto them, that they of old Custom know that the cause of their Assembly bly and meeting together is for the election of the Lord Mayor for the year ensuing; declaring unto them divers Grants from the Kings Progenitors for this their Election from time to time. That done, my Lord and the Aldermen go up into my Lords Court; and there tarry (the door being shut to them) till the Election be brought to them. Then standeth up master Common Serjeant, (the Sheriffs standing on either side of him) and by the Sheriffs M. Chamberlein, M. Town-Clerk, the two Sec-daries, and the Counsellors of the City, in the said Hustings Court before the Commons. And he the said Common Serjeant maketh a short rehearsal of that M. Recorder had spoken to them before saying, There resteth no more for him to say, but to put them in remembrance in what order and sort they should should use themselves in their Election; that is, how they must nominate and chuse two, of the which two my Lord and the Aldermen must confirm one: which two being nominated, elected and chosen, M. Common Serjeant, the Sheriffs, with the rest before named, and certain of the head Wardens of the cheif Companies, go up to my Lord and the Aldermen, and there present the names of those two which the Commons have nominated in their Election.

Then the Lord Mayor and the Aldermen proceed by scrutiny to elect one of those two persons, which the said Commons had before nominated. Then cometh down my Lord again to the Husings Court, and he (whom they have chosen) on his left hand, and so my Lord and the Aldermen sit down again in order: but he who is chosen sitteth next unto my Lord on his left hand. Then standeth master Recorder up, and readeth unto them the names of such persons whom they have nominated and chosen: of which my Lord and the Aldermen have admitted one, whose name is N. asking them whether it be their free Election, yea or no: and the Commons answer, Yea, yea. Then the Sword-bearer taketh off his Tippet, and hath it for his labour, and putteth, on his Chain, and the Mayor new elected standeth upon the Hustings Court, and giveth thanks, &c. That being done, the old Mayor doth likewise give them thanks, &c. Then they arise up, and put off their Cloaks, and my Lord Mayor hath the Lord elect riding with him to the eldest Sheriffs to Dinner.

For

For presenting of my Lord Elect to the Lord Chancellor (or Lord Keeper.)

Then after Dinner my Lord Elect goeth to my Lord Chancelloz, (or Lord Keeper) if he be at home at his place, or near unto it, with fife or six of the Aldermen, and master Recorder with him, in their Violet Gowns, either by foot or by water, as the dwelling-place of the Chancelloz (or Lord Keeper) requireth. The common Hunt, with the extraordinary Officers, and those that be at liberty, attend on him.

The morrow after Michaelmas-day, for the Sheriffs going to Westminster.

All the Aldermen must be at the two Sheriffs houses in the morning at eight of the clock, B 2 in in their Violet Gowns furred, & their Horses, without Cloaks : but my Lord, master Recorder and the two Sheriffs must be in their Scarlet Gowns furred, and their Cloaks boyn to Westminster with them, and so ride to the Guildhall, and from thence to the Cinetree, and there taking Barge land at Westminster-bridge, and in the hall put on their Cloaks, and so go up to the Erchequer : and there the two new Sheriffs be presented, & the old sworn to their account.

Then they put off their Cloaks, and take Barge, landing again at the Cinetree, and there take horse: and my Lord Mayor rideth to the eldest Sheriffs to Dinner, master Recorder and the Sheriffs riding next my Lord, the two Sheriffs carrying two white rods in their hands, and their Bench-men going after them.

The

The order for Simon and Judes day

The old Bayor shall have so many of the Aldermen as dine with him come to his place at eight of the clock in the morning, in their Violet Gowns furred, with their Violet Cloaks furred, and Horses, and the Sheriffs to fetch him to the Hall, and there tarry in the Council-Chamber untill the new Bayor cometh, and the rest of the Aldermen come, with the Company of either of the Lords before them: and after they have been together a certain space come forth into the Orphans Court, and put on their furred Cloaks, and go to the Hustings Court: & there being set in order, the Common Crier maketh Proclamation, commanding every man to keep silence.

Then Master Town-Clerk
B 3 giveth gibeth him his Dath : and when he hath taken, his Dath, the old Lord ariseth, and gibeth the new Lord his place, the old Lord taking the new Lords place : and then master Chamberlein delivereth first to him the Scepter, next the Keys of the common Seal, lastly, the Seal, of Office of the Mayoralty ; after master Sword-bearer gibeth him the Sword. Then they arise & put off their Cloaks, and the old Lord rideth home with the new Lord to his place, and there leaveth him, and as many of the Aldermen as dine with him. And the old Lord, with the rest of the Aldermen, ride to his place, the Sword bozn before him : and so after Dinner the Aldermen depart home at their pleasure.

On

On the morrow after Simon and Jude's day, for my Lord going to take his Oath at Westminster.

ALL the Aldermen and the Sheriffs come to my new Lord at eight of the clock in their Scarlet Gowns furred, and their Cloaks boyn with them, and their Horses, and so ride to the Guildhall, and the Bachelors and the Libery of my Lords Company before him.

A Velvet Hood, Cap of Maintenance.

But the old Lord rideth from his own place to the Hall alone, having no Officers to wait upon him, but the common Hunt, as a Gentleman Usher, going, and those Officers that be at Liberty, and the common Hunt his man, (with his own men following him) and so tarrieth at the Hall.

A Velvet Hood for both Mayors.

And after they be come all together, there, they take their Horses, and ride to the Cinetree, and there take Barge to Westminster-bridge.

And after they be landed, the Lord mayoz and the Aldermen put on their Cloaks within the Palace, and go round about the Hall, making curtisie in the Hall, and so go up to the Exchequer to be sworn. Then after the Oath taken in the Exchequer, they come down again, and go first to the Kings Bench, then to the Common Place, and so put off their Cloaks, and go about the Kings Combs in Westminster Abbey, and then take Barge again. And being landed, he rideth to the Guildhall to Dinner, and all the Companies of this City with him: and at their coming into the Hall, the new Lord Mayoz, with two of the ancient Aldermen, master Recorder and the Sheriffs riffs go up to my Lords Table to bid them welcome, and likewise all the other guests there, and from thence to the Lady Mayores Table, and so come out to the Gentlemens Table, & to the Judges: and so from thence my said new L. Mayoꝝ goeth into the Chamberleins Office, where he dineth; and the old Lord Mayoꝝ, at their first coming into the Hall, goeth up to the high Table in the Husting, and there kerpeth the State for that Feast. And after the Hall is almost serued of the second, then the new Lord Mayoꝝ goeth, with master Recorder and those Aldermen that dine with him, to bid the old Lord and all the guests in the Hall welcome. Then after Dinner goeth to S. Pauls, with all the Companies waiting before my Lord.
